CAMP RIVERCREST'S MOBILE DEVICE POLICY

We believe that summer camp is a powerful, transformative experience for our campers. One of the most powerful parts of that experience is the ability to unplug and get away from the distractions of everyday life to focus on what matters most.

As such, we have a no mobile device policy (includes cell phones, tablets, smart watches, etc.) for our campers. We want campers to actively engage in relationships with fellow campers and staff, as well as enjoy the excitement of activities during their camp session. If a staff member sees a camper with their device, they will be given a warning and asked to put the device away. If the camper has their device out again, it will be stored in the office for safekeeping until the camper is picked-up at the end of camp.

Thank you for your help in giving campers the space to focus on God and others by keeping their cell phones (and other devices) at home.
